President Says Mrs. Hobby Has Done Fine Job

WASHINGTON (A) - President Eisenhower said today Secretary of Welfare Hobby has handled the Salk polio vaccine program and her job generally in a highly efficient manner.

The President's statement was made at a news conference when he was told Sen. Morse (D-Ore) had described Mrs. Hobby as guilty of "gross incompetency" in the vaccine program. Morse said she ought to be removed from office.

Eisenhower said it would be a waste of time for him to take note of Morse's accusations.

> To understand the realistic situation here one must brush aside wishful thinking and realize that Soviet Russia has neutralized Austria as a clever step in a long-range offensive. Too many people, not only in Europe but in America, have been proceeding on a false assumption-namely, that the Kremlin really has been planning a military attack. The truth is the Soviet regime, after scaring the daylights out of the West, has always had in mind that of Germany could be prevented. Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent) WASHINGTON - (NEA) - Any idea that the United States will put a sizable contingent of American ground troops on Formosa for defense of the island has now been given permanent burial by President Eisenhower.

The President told his press conference that while the United States now has MAAG - Military Assistant Advisory Group-on Formosa to train Chinese Nationalist troops, there has been no suggestion for a major American base on the is-

The President said he had thought of everything that might be needed out there, but he had no recommendation from anyone to make it a permanent station for American ground troops.

This should lay the ghost of that rumor, which has been floating around Washington rather conspicously. The way these flying news saucers get launched sometimes border on the fantastic.

On Feb. 16. Joseph C. Harsch of Christian Science Monitor wrote a piece on the dangers of the administration's military cut-backs would make it impossible for the United States to put a couple of divisions of ground troops on Formosa, if it were decided that should be done. He wrote

"If ground troops of the U.S. Army were put ashore in Formosa and entrusted with the task of defending it, there can be little room for doubt that it would be defended effectively for as long as Washington was willing to leave those troops on the island

"Here is plainly a case where America can keep the peace by preventing the Communists from obtaining a prize without war. Whether the failure to hold Formose would actually jeopardize the security of the United States is another matter. But it would be a loss in prestige which could be averted most effectively by American

This is apparently the first time this idea got out in the open. Mr. Harsch says now that he does not think he originated it. but just happened to hit on an idea which government officials also were considering.

For a month or more there was no reaction. Then one day in a private conversation with an official of the British embassy, Mr. Harsch learned that his idea had borne fruit and was being considered by the Pentagon.

At about the same time other reporters began to hear rumors that a proposal of this kind was in the works. But the rumor couldn't be pinned down, so nobody wrote

Then on April 29 the story came out. Press associations carried the report that unnamed sources in the State Department and the Pentagon were considering establishment of permanent American bases for Air, Marine or Army ground forces on Formosa.

The purpose was said to be to bolster Nationalist Chinese morale and to show the Chinese Communists that the United States meant business in defense of For-

How Russians Got German Art

CHICAGO-How Germany's art treasurers were protected from wartime bombardment and then taken by Russian occupation forces has been revealed by Dr. Hans Huth of the Art Institute of Chicago. Using two pamphlets published by the West German government, Dr. Huth pieced together the story.

He supplemented the information with his knowledge of German art. His report is published in the Art Bulletin Quarterly of the College Art Assn. of America.

He says that most of the German art losses were not caused by the disasters of war but mismanagement and confiscation by Russian authori-

The Dresden Coin Collection is an example. The Russians poured the coins into containers and left all the trays and identifying labels. It is doubtful if any order can ever be restored to this mass of missing money, Dr. Huth says.

The Germans sent several important collections to the safety of the salt mines 150 miles west of Berlin. But others were stored in Berlin museum cellars and two concrete structures called Tower Zoo (Z) and Tower Friedrichsain (F) built in what now is the Russian Zone of Berlin.

By 1942 many movable objects from Berlin were distributed throughout Germany and Austria.

Even though Tower F and the Schloss Vaults and other shelters were bombed and fires broke out in some, the losses to the Berlin museums at the time of the surrender were serious but not extraordinary, Dr. Huth says.

The Russian command got furisdiction over both Towers Z pieces. On May 6, 1945 there was Buy and Sell the Classified Way.

tive arts were destroyed. Other vaults in Berlin which housed museum objects as well as deposits in mines and elsewhere were ransacked and emptied by the Russians. Much of the art was taken to Russia.

Among the priceless masterpieces confiscated is a triptych, an altar piece, by Netherlands artist Van Eyck, 1390-1414. Its value to the art world is indicated by the fact that a Van Eyck painting recently was sold to the Frick collection in New York City by the Rothschild family in Paris, France, for a million dollars. Mother Of Three Gets AB Degree Sederburg is going to get her A. B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan this spring and a right well earned one it will be.

Mrs. Sederburg, mother of three children from 7 to 12 years and wife of a Wesleyan professor, will have credits from eight colleges applying on her degree.

Before her marriage she studied at Luther College, Wahoo, Neb., and an Omaha business college.

After she married M. E. Sederburg, she studied at Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota University of Omaha, University of South Dakota, Drake University at Des Moines, University of Nebraska and finally at Wesleyar as her husband continued his studies and his teaching.

She herself is a third-grade teacher here.

Grand Jury Law Gets Bad Blow

forcement officials in Michigan said the U.S. Supreme Court struck a death blow to Michigan's one-man grand jury system when it ruled Monday that a grand juror has no power to punish witnesses for contempt.

The high court reversed both the State Supreme Court and Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara in ruling that O'Hara went past his authority in sentencing Lee Roy Murchison, a former Detroit policeman, and John White, owner of the Gotham Hotel, in June, 1954. Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara said, "For all practical purposes the one-man grand jury law is dead." The circuit judge gained fame as a special prosecutor for grand juries in the 1934 recount scandal, the 1936 Black Legion conspiracy and the 1940 Ferguson gambling-graft charges.

"You can't conduct a successful grand jury without the power to punish witnesses for contempt," he said. "I've tried it and I wouldn't give you a plugged nickel for the grand jury law now.

Wayne County Prosecutor Geraald O'Brien said the decision "goes to the very heart of the grand jury statue." He said he would "hesitate before ever asking for another grand jury."

Nominees Picked In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (A - W. Thacher Longstreth, a 34-year-old advertising executive, won the foursided Republican mayoralty nomination battle in Philadelphia Tues-

The 6-foot-6, bespectacled former naval intelligence officer will run November against veteran campaigner Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic nominee. This is Longstreth's first try for public office.

Dilworth, an unsuccessful gubernatorial candidate five years ago and former district attorney, had an easy time defeating William A. Paschall, wholesale meat dealer who ran with no visible means of political support. Democratic incumbent Joseph S. Clark Jr., a potential senatorial candidate next year, declined to run again.

Longstreth scored an 8-5 victory over his nearest opponent George P. Williams III, a 35-year-old former deputy attorney general. Magistrate James J. Clothier and Oscar H. Newman trailed.

The lack of a race of statewide interest kept the primary vote down to an estimated 35 to 40 per cent of the 2,745,322 Republicans and 2,110,643 Democrats eligible to

A son of a former star Gladstone High School football player is making his own name in athletics in a New York high school ... Ray Empson, son of George Empson of Hamburg, N. Y., who played a lot of football for Gladstone back in the middle 1920's, set three field records in a recent Nichols High School meet ... He cracked marks in the 100 and 220 dashes and the broad jump and ran anchor on the winning Nichols 880 relay team ... He played basketball and football as Holy Name Crusaders to a 7-0 In the top of the seventh, Holy registered the other. well and will attend Princeton next year.

The Arcadians bowling team, sponsored by Carl Sawyer, will be in action in the American Bowling Congress tournament in Fort Wayne, Ind., over the weekend . With the team will be Phenix Benard, Augie Gafner, Chuck Peltier, Harry Gafner, Eddie Gravelle and Tony Orzel ... They'll roll as a team Saturday night and in doubles and singles Sunday morning.

Gwinn, Marquette and Houghton joined the Upper Peninsula Greenwood, Holy Name second baseball league this week, raising to nine the number of clubs in the baseman, provided the big bat for circuit.... He also scored trips - including three to the Copper Country members, Houghton, twice. Hancock and L'Anse-would make it just about impossible for the Bears to finance a team in the U. P. League ... Also, it is hoped that the team will eventually be made up of players just out of high school and the U. P. League is probably too fast for their lack of experience.

The Class C athletes in the U. P. finals track meet here Saturday will all be from distant points ... There are no Class C schools with track teams in this area. Wakefield and Houghton are the top contenders for the Class C Upper Peninsula crown this year.
